

Waters Are Receding In Flooded Districts

MILITIAMEN AND DEPUTIES CARRY ON RELIEF WORK ALL OVER AFFECTED SECTIONS—THRILLING STORIES TOLD.

DISEASE IS NOW THE GREATEST DANGER THAT THREATENS

Death Toll Will be as Large as Reported in Many Section, But Was Exaggerated in First Report From Some Points—Many Bodies Are Recovered by Workers—Help Comes From All Parts of the United States.

Indianapolis, Ind., Mch. 28.—The receding of the waters and the arrival of the relief trains gave the Indiana refugees hope today. New perils lie in the danger of overflow in the western and southern sections of the state, where the torrents empty into the Wabash. Disease and looters are combated in the stricken towns.

Cincinnati, O.—Another flooded village was heard from today when the coroner was notified that 30 persons had perished at Venice. Members of five families were wiped out. Many of the refugees in the flooded districts of Dayton, whose houses have been without fire for days and during the blizzard of yesterday, are suffering from pneumonia and the mortality list from this one disease will run high.

The sun rose bright in Dayton this morning, however, and the outlook is much more cheerful. The refugees penned in the downtown district were able to reach their homes in the suburbs. The militia and hundreds of deputies are aiding in the distribution of food and clothing. Sightseers are barred and the militiamen have orders to shoot disorderly men and looters.

At Troy and Piqua.
Toledo — A message from Troy says the death list at Piqua will be at least 200. The dead at Troy number between 75 and 100. Dozens of refugees in the trees in the lowlands, benumbed by the cold, were seen to drop into the raging waters, according to the helpless watchers on the hills.

At Shawnee, across the river from Piqua, all of the 500 homes have been swept away. How many lives have been lost is not known.

300 Dead at Chillicothe.
Toledo — The telephone wire chief at Chillicothe told state officers that at least 100 bodies had been taken from the debris in the flooded district there. He said he was unable to put an accurate estimate on the number of dead, but had been told that the number would reach 300.

Lafayette, Ind.—The river is receding rapidly. One life was lost. The damage is estimated at more than $1,000,000. The water is the highest since 1883.

Crops Greatly Damaged.
Frankfort, Ind.—At this time it is impossible to estimate the loss by floods. All information attests to increase in the damage to property in general. Traffic is suspended; everything is at a standstill, both in city and country. Think the damage to growing wheat is very heavy and the probability is a heavy decrease in the acreage of oats.

Dead Still Unknown
Dayton, O., Mch. 28.—Special to Telegraph—Dayton's dead was still a matter of conjecture early today. Chief of Police H. E. Allaback said not over 200 persons lost their lives in Dayton proper, but there remained West Dayton and other suburbs to hear from. It was in North Dayton that the colleges of foreign workers were overwhelmed by a 25-foot wall of water by the breaking of the levee after they had refused to heed a warning.

Dayton Has Big Fire.
Dayton had another big fire early today. The First National bank building burned. However, there was no loss of life as the flood waters had receded so that boats put out and took off the refugees from the building. The water was still four feet deep in the street, but it was "dead water," not the seething torrent of the preceding three days.

Only two bodies were found in the business section of Dayton. This does not indicate the number who perished there, as the currents were swift and carried many away who leaped from the burning buildings or perished ed when boats were sucked down. North Dayton has furnished some surprises. The water there in many places was 25 feet deep, but very strangely, few bodies were found today. However, the water was still close to ten feet deep today, preventing rescue.

Riverdale, because of the large number of houses that were washed away and upturned, may turn out to be the greatest sufferer from human loss. The water is still high in that section today. Hundreds of persons have been taken out of the inundated district since the waters receded sufficiently to permit boats to brave the current.

Fear Epidemic.
The greatest fear now is that disease will claim many victims in the wake of the flood. Pestilence is feared, and already sanitary and health officials are mapping out their work.

Meanwhile, the citizens of Columbus are just beginning to realize the enormity of the disaster in the territory. The Scioto river with its bridges gone, had prevented the east side of the city from learning of the terrible conditions on the west side. But today, as the water fell, it became known that the loss of life in the submerged section had been far heavier than anticipated. The number of dead here is estimated at from 600 to 1000.

The bodies of 200 persons lie huddled in the United Brethren church on Avondale avenue in Columbus, according to O. H. Ossman, an undertaker who explored the flood district in a row-boat today. He says the report was made to him by a man who said he had been able to reach the building and look through the windows. Police who sought to confirm the story were unable to reach the church before the current. Ossman said 19 bodies had been taken to his undertaking rooms, and that he had been asked to be prepared for 69 other bodies. He says he counted fully 200 bodies in wreckage on West Park avenue. Other men who have ventured into the flood district tell corresponding stories of a full loss of life.

To add to the horrors of the situation, reports reached the State House today that the buildings in the flood-swept district were being looted by men in rowboats. To meet this emergency and to better patrol the west side, which is under martial law, Gov. Cox ordered that Troop B of the National Guard should patrol the ruined section of the city at night. It was believed the cavalymen could cover more territory than the foot soldiers.

Indianapolis—The waters in West Indianapolis are receding; 25 bodies were recovered today. The food supply is low.

No Word Received.
Cincinnati—Efforts to communicate with Miamisburg have failed so far; no refugees have come from that place and fear is growing that the report of 4000 being drowned there will be verified.

500 Dead at Zanesville.

Zanesville—The dead are estimated here at from 150 to 500. Thousands of houses are submerged and many thousands of people homeless. Buildings are collapsing and food supplies are short.

Coke Otto Submerged
Toledo—Refugees from above Hamilton, O., this morning say that Coke Otto, a hamlet of 400, south, is completely submerged. The fate of the inhabitants is unknown. "If the death record in Hamilton does not exceed 400, we will be grateful," said Mayor Karl today.

126 Dead at Columbus.
Columbus—The number of known dead here now is 126.

SCENE ON THE MIAMI AT DAYTON

This is a scene on the raging Miami river at Dayton, O., where hundreds of lives have been lost in the floods.

NEW JEWELER HAS ROOM AT THE INN

M. L. WARNER OF DEERFIELD, WIS., TO OPEN BUSINESS IN DIXON.

M. L. Warner of Deerfield, Wis., an experienced jeweler and watch maker, has leased one of the store rooms in the Dixon Inn building and will open a jewelry store and repairing business therein. Mr. Warner, who some time ago negotiated for the purchase of the Overstreet business, now plans to start his new business in a moderate way, increasing his stock as the business warrants.

WOOD WORKER LOST FINGERS YESTERDAY

THOMAS MCBRIDE HAD DIGITS OF RIGHT HAND AMPUTATED.

Thomas McBride, an employee of the Roper company, suffered the loss of all the fingers of his right hand while operating a joiner Thursday afternoon. In some manner the board he was pushing through the machine was knocked from his grasp and his fingers were caught in the revolving knives. All the flesh was cut from the bones and it was necessary to amputate the digits.

JAMES CARROLL BROKE ANKLE

LINEMAN FROM DIXON INJURED WHEN LIMB OF TREE FELL.

Amboy, Mch. 28.—Special—James Carroll, a lineman from Dixon, employed by the I. N. U. company, received a broken ankle when a part of a limb of a tree which had lodged on some wires, fell and struck him on the right leg.

Mr. Carroll was taken to the Amboy hospital, where he is resting easily today.

GUY SIMONSON HOME.

Guy Simonson of Chicago spent the night with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Simonson. He was accompanied as far as Dixon by J. E. Cousins of the Swift Relief committee of Chicago, who was enroute to Omaha.

CIGARS FOR FIREMEN.

The members of the fire department were treated to a box of good cigars this morning, the gift of Gilbert Glessner.

COFFEYS HAVE GONE TO CINCINNATI

Relatives this morning received word from Mr. and Mrs. John Coffey, who have been visiting in Dayton and for whose safety fears were entertained, stating that they had reached Cincinnati, but that they could not get out of that city. The news has allayed the fears of the family.

DIXON DONATIONS TO FLOOD SUFFERERS

All money sent to The Telegraph for the flood sufferers in Ohio and Indiana will be forwarded to The American Red Cross Association. Donations to date are:

COSTS OF CONTEST WILL BE DIVIDED

Judge Farrand, sitting in the circuit court at Mt. Carroll this week, held that the costs of the Middleknauff-Wingert election should be borne jointly by the contestants, thus finally disposing of the case.

$850 FOR SUFFERERS.

Sterling, Mch. 28.—Special—At a mass meeting of prominent citizens at the Sterling Club rooms this afternoon $850 was raised for the "Food relief" funds.

GEN SMITH ATKINS DIED AT FREEPORT

VETERAN EDITOR AND POSTMASTER WAS PROMINENT FIGURE IN STATE.

Freeport, Mch. 28.—Special to the Telegraph—General Smith D. Atkins of Freeport died last night at 10:30 o'clock. The funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m.

General Smith D. Atkins was one of the most prominent figures in the history of northern Illinois, and one of the old line republicans of this congressional district.

Gen. Atkins was the owner of the Freeport Journal and for years served as postmaster at Freeport.

He entered politics during the Lincoln campaign and had been interested in every national campaign since then, taking an active and leading part in party councils in both the state and nation.

He had the distinction of being the first man to enlist as a Union soldier from Stephenson county at the outbreak of the civil war.

RELATIVES FEAR FOR DIXON GIRLS

GENS. WORKING IN SOUTHERN ILLINOIS HAVE NOT BEEN HEARD FROM.

Dixon relatives are greatly worried about Misses Lillie Long, Mattie Palmer and Mamie Mealy, all Dixon girls who at present are employed at a shoe factory near St. Louis, in Jerseyville, Ill.

It has been the girls' custom to write home every week, the letters invariably arriving here Tuesday. No word has arrived this week from them and their relatives are greatly alarmed, for they fear that Jerseyville may be in the flooded district or in the wind-swept area.

GYM CLASS GAVE BANQUET TO WIVES

PLEASANT AFFAIR AT Y. M. C. A. LAST EVENING WAS SEASON'S FEATURE.

The Business Men's Gymnasium class banquet to the wives of members of the Y. M. C. A. last evening was a success from every standpoint. About 40 were present.

A three-course supper was served by members of the girls' gymnasium class. The girls who served were Misses Margaret and Olive Anderson, Irene Eichenberg, Ada Shippert and Christine Hammond.

Extemporaneous talks on scholarly subjects were given by several male attendants on the banquet. Dr. C. H. Ives spoke on "How I Prescribe for Athletes Who Eat Ham," Prof. Ransom Harvey spoke on "Why I Am Not Married," O. M. Rogers on "Why I Make Fools in Basketball," and Prof. C. H. Anderson gave a reading on the "Trials of Ben Thomas."

TOWNSHIP SHOULD MAKE OVER $1000

PROMPT PAYMENT OF TAXES WOULD ENRICH COUNTY TREASURY.

SIMONSON CALLS ATTENTION

To Conditions of Much Interest to Every Voter in Lee County.

The following communication received this morning from A. E. Simonson will be of great interest to the tax payers of Dixon township, for in it Mr. Simonson shows how the township treasury can be enriched about $1,000 yearly by the prompt payment of taxes. He says:

Editor Telegraph—In looking over the tax books of the county treasurer and the township collector for the past few years I noticed that the delinquent tax reports from this township run from $38,000 to $75,000 yearly. It is perhaps known to but few tax payers in the township that all the monies collected over and above the amount sufficient to pay the collector's salary, as fixed by the town board, if paid in to the collector of the township, would be credited to the township. In other words, the collector of the township receives 2 per cent of all monies collected by him, $1,000 of this commission is salary, and all over that goes to the township fund. If these taxes are not paid to the collector but are paid to the county treasurer, the 2 per cent for collecting goes to the county.

The tax levy in Dixon township for 1912 was $123,140,000 and the delinquent tax that year collected by the county treasurer was $45,550.86. The 2 per cent on this delinquency amounts to $9,110.17 and went into the county treasury, when it, taken had been paid to the township collector the amount would have been added to the township fund.

$1,100 This Year
The tax levy for this year was $122,473.34 and the delinquency was that about $35,600 of this amount will be returned delinquent to the county treasurer for collection, unless this article brings about the result hoped for. The two per cent on this $35,600 will amount to $1,150, which, if the taxes are paid promptly, will go to the township. Otherwise the county will receive the commission.

In the slight investigation I have been able to make throughout the township as to the condition and number of the dependent poor, I am surprised at the large number of real needy persons who are at the present time receiving no relief. While it is true in some cases that the charity of the township is being abused, yet I know of numerous cases where no relief is being asked because of the feeling of delicacy of those who are needy.

And yet the money expended in the past year by the supervisor of the poor has been greater than for some years past and I am informed that in many cases that the supervisor has personally taken care of cases without cost to the township.

Can Be Used for Poor

Some system should be devised by which a personal investigation could be made of every case of the unfortunate in the township who are in need of assistance, either through the supervisor of the poor or in conjunction with the charitable organizations of the city.

The number of the needy poor in Dixon township makes it necessary that additional funds be raised for their proper care. As I have shown above the prompt payment of taxes will greatly enrich the township treasury and will relieve in a measure the necessity of soliciting donations from the citizens. What has been said of Dixon township is also true of all the townships in the county, and the matter should meet the attention of every citizen of the county. And until the old age pension and the mothers' pension are in active operation these conditions will be foremost in township affairs.

Dixon Can Lead

This article must not be interpreted as meaning that Dixon township has an over abundance of needy poor or as a complaint that their care is necessary. Rather its purpose is to show that sufficient funds to properly care for them can be obtained.

Social Happenings

To Meet Friday

Jack Forrest is in Chicago. The Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will meet Friday afternoon in the church parlors at 2:30.

To Visit at Rectory

Mrs. A. B. Whitcombe is anticipating a visit from her sister, Mrs. Gwen Dolan Davis of Chicago.

Birthday Party

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Kline on the Franklin Grove road was the scene of a happy gathering on Wednesday evening, when a number of the neighbors gathered to assist the head of the house in celebrating his birthday anniversary. The occasion was a complete surprise and was so cleverly managed that he did not even surmise it. But he recovered from his astonishment and soon entered in to the spirit of the evening and proved an excellent host. The evening proved all too short in games and music. Appetizing refreshments were served. At a late hour the guests left for their various homes, wishing Mr. Kline many happy returns of the day and leaving the host a handsome book as a souvenir of the happy time.

Last Meeting

The Household Science department of the Dixon Woman's club will Saturday hold its last meeting for the club year at the home of its president, Mrs. J. B. Traber. Frank Stevens, editor of the Dixon Weekly Citizen, will be the principal speaker of the afternoon. A business meeting will be held. Conveyances will be at Rowland's corner at 2 p. m. to take all to the Traber home who care to go by that mode of conveyance. Round trip 25 cents.

Chinese Tea

Don't forget the Chinese tea and Chop Suey to be served Saturday at Moller & Wilson's automobile salesrooms. Pretty Chinese maids will serve you and you will think you are transported to the land of the cherry blossom and chrysanthemum. All afternoon and evening.

Visited at Cheney Home

F. A. Watson, Dr. James Camp, and Thomas Eustace visited Thursday with Mrs. Cheney at his country home in South Dixon.

Entertained

The Thursday Evening Study club were entertained last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Williams of Second street.

At Sterling Home

Mr. and Mrs. Overmiller of Sterling are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Streling.

Guild Dance

No invitations have been issued to the dance to be given by St. Agnes Guild Monday evening and it is hoped the attendance will be large. The gallery is ample for spectators and a fee of 25 cents will be charged for these seats. Miss Hattie Cook will cater and refreshments of chicken salad, sandwiches, pickles, coffee, etc. will be served. The floor is in excellent condition and everything points to a most delightful party. The Marquette orchestra will play.

To Wed Tomorrow

Miss Hazel Noble and Dr. Earl Armour Clendence will be married tomorrow at 4 p. m. at the home of

Eye Strain

Is caused by an effort of the eye to focus clearly when an error of refraction is present.

This trouble is common in astigmatism.

There is just one cure for eye strain—the wearing of properly adjusted glasses for all near work.

To get these properly adjusted glasses it is necessary to let us determine just what sort of glasses you need.

The proper glasses relieve eye strain at once and cure all the attendant evils.

the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Noble, corner of Peoria avenue and Third street. The wedding will be of marked simplicity.

Birthday Dinner

Mrs. Z. W. Moss entertained with a birthday dinner last evening and there were present two other guests who also celebrate their anniversaries within a few days of each other, W. W. Gilbert and Mrs. Fred Dimick. An exquisitely appointed dinner was served and a delightful evening enjoyed afterward.

HIS THEORIES ON WEATHER

Algernon Explains What May Be Expected After the Earth Gets "Hot Up."

"Yo' cayn' 'speak no standin' we'der, sah," said Algernon, as Mr. Topfloor came in drenched after an experience with the weather the other evening. "Ull a'er de full moon in May."

"So it seems," replied Mr. Topfloor as dryly as he could under the circumstances. "While de's all des flyin' clouds 'round, der's li'ble to be win' an' rain. sah. Sometime de win' git behin' a bunch ob dem clouds an' blow 'em all ovah, an' e'lyer dey tuns to rain, or else it jes' win'. But a'er de full moon in May de yarth git heat up."

"By what?" asked Mr. Topfloor shivering. "By de sun, sah. It's mos in its elemen' by dat time, 'way 'round by de 'quator. Down Souf, 'way I comes 'om, dey says 'wen de sun git 'round' dere it complete a cycle. 'Wot's a cycle, sah? Well, dis de way I 'splain it. 'Wen I takes de elevator up an' den takes it down, dat complete de cycle. But, sah," as the dripping Mr. Topfloor stepped off the elevator, "ef yo' liles, an' I hopes yo' may, I gwina tell yo' mo' 'bout dat."

GREAT AUK'S VALUABLE EGG

One Recently Sold at Auction in London for $1,500—Bird Is Now Extinct.

An egg of the great auk, or garefowl, a bird now extinct, was sold at auction in London for a sum equivalent to $1,500.

Not all great auk's eggs are alike. In length they vary from four and one-eighth inches to five inches. The greater number found have a white ground, but others are of various shades of buff. In some cases the markings are spots, shown in blotches or lines.

It is said that no living auk has been seen since 1844. The birds were exterminated by the ruthless traffic in their eggs and skins, although their numbers, especially on the Newfoundland and Labrador coasts, were once they were very numerous, were greatly reduced by their wholesale slaughter for food.

The most remarkable characteristic of the great auk was its inability to fly. Its wings were scarcely more than fins, which aided the bird in swimming.

Doubtful Success

Much excitement was caused a few weeks ago in Calcutta by a particularly insubstantial and evil-smelling tank suddenly changing to a perfumed one, giving off the refreshing smell of lemon.

To the natives this portended the coming of a great Indian goddess, who would arise out of the water; so the pilgrims gathered in thousands to have their sins washed away and diseases cured. A gullible youth also had been selling this holy water at five rupees per bottle, which is equal to 64 8d.

But soon afterward it was discovered that a large consignment of essential oils, belonging to a firm of perfumers close by, had got smashed, and afterward leaked into the tank. The natives now feel rather uncomfortable at the thought of having drunk the dirty water. It is to be hoped that they will know the smell of holy water next time they meet near a perfumer's work.—Answers.

Woman Boss of Lumbermen

Mrs. Mary Gregory of Damariscotta, Me., is the first woman to have charge of a gang of lumbermen. She is the mother of six children and until a few months ago did all the work of cooking and caring for a gang of 22 workmen besides her own family. Finding that she had still many idle hours on her hands, she applied for work as woodchopper. She soon proved herself such an expert chopper and knapper that a few weeks ago she pitched herself against the best two men of the camp. She not only did more work than either of them, but more than both together. It was soon after this that the owner of the lumber camps appointed her boss of one of his largest gangs of lumbermen.

Sculptor's Rise to Fame

August Rodin, president of the Society of Sculptors and Painters of Paris, which recently sent a traveling collection to this country, is of peasant stock and has been compelled to fight the academic art schools every inch of the way to his present place as the most famous contemporary sculptor. He studied drawing in a private school, but was unable to gain admission to the Ecole des Beaux Arts because of his unacademic methods. He worked away in a dingy apology for a studio in a stable. After years of trial and struggle his "Age of Bronze" was finally accepted by the salon, leading eventually to fame.

OHIO DEATH TOLL IS 2,000 TO 12,000; LOSS $100,000,000

GOV. COX SUMS UP SITUATION.

Columbus, O., March 28.—Gov. James M. Cox issued the following statement summarizing flood conditions in Ohio: "It is the consensus of opinion that the property loss in Ohio will exceed that sustained by San Francisco. This apparently incredible statement is easily understood when the widespread destruction to railroad property is calculated.

"It is safe to assume that more than half the large railroad bridges in Ohio are down. The waters are receding at Dayton, Piqua, Zanesville, Fremont, Tiffin, Chillicothe, Hamilton, Middletown and Columbus. Besides, the fall of the water will bring the real tragedy of the whole situation.

"We ought to know today approximately what the loss of life has been. The indications are that the list may not run as heavily as forecast at Dayton, but there are grave fears that a tremendous tragedy will be revealed beyond the Scioto river, where the western part of Columbus is completely devastated.

"Dayton is relieved in one respect. The ten or twelve thousand people penned up in the business buildings were freed by the middle of the afternoon.

"Our great difficulty still remains the lack of railroad transportation. The Scioto is falling rapidly and a surprising number of houses seem to have been washed away in West Columbus. Many people contend that the loss here will be 1,000. We are hoping this is excessive.

"Chillicothe reports the loss of more than one hundred lives. Piqua insists the loss there is 500.

"The country is making splendid response to the appeal for help. President Wilson and his secretaries of war and the treasury department are giving splendid assistance.

"A complete relief commission has been formed under the combined auspices of the state and Red Cross commission."

Cleveland, Ohio, March 28.—Estimates of the death toll taken by the terrible floods which swept Ohio are that from 2,000 to 12,000 lives have been lost. In addition, the property loss is estimated at fully $100,000,000.

From latest reports the disaster at Columbus bids fair to rival that at Dayton, so far as loss of life is concerned. The latest reports indicate that from 800 to 1,000 were killed when the mad waters of the Scioto plunged through the state capital. Most of the victims were residents of the West side of Columbus.

Relief trains have reached Dayton and state guardsmen and volunteers with boats are furnishing the beleaguered residents of North Dayton and other sections of the city with food.

It is estimated that the dead in Dayton surely number 200 and that 10,000 are missing. The authorities declare it will be a miracle if more than 5,000 of these are found.

It is figured that the loss of life outside of Columbus and Dayton will certainly total 1,700 and may reach 2,000.

In Dayton, Chief of Police Allaback and Secretary Burba, Governor Cox's aide, who are in charge of the relief work, have sent out a call for 500 coffins. Coffins and food now seem to be the necessities throughout the flood district.

The governor and others who have been directing the rescue work from Columbus were heartened when it was learned that the big Lewistown reservoir, which was weakened by the immense amount of water poured into it, was safe. Hundreds of men, women and children have worked for the last two days strengthening its banks.

Food Situation Relieved. The situation in Dayton, so far as food is concerned, was relieved to a great extent by the arrival of the relief expeditions with a plentiful supply. Men in skiffs, carrying food and medicines, rowed through the streets in the residence sections that could be reached, and passed out the supplies. So far no one has attempted to penetrate the foreign section of the city in North Dayton, close to the Miami river. The current is still too swift to be crossed in skiffs. It is believed the loss of life will be heavy.

The downtown section of the city is still under from fifteen to thirty feet of water, although in some of the outlying districts the flood has subsided a foot or two.

Water Twenty Feet Deep in Street. Toledo, O., March 28.—Hundreds of persons are known to have been driven to the top floor of the Dayton buildings by the flood. Water in the streets there is twenty feet deep. It is impossible to render any aid to the people in that district, as it is completely surrounded, and boats cannot live in the raging torrents.

People in other sections of the city watched the sight from across the river and saw several persons racing to and fro on the roofs as the flames hemmed them in.

Ten bodies were recovered from the ruins at Hamilton, Ohio. It is believed 23 persons are dead there. Among the first bodies to be recovered were those of two detectives and three policemen.

The Lake view hotel in the residence part of Hamilton collapsed at noon. It is said that fifty people took refuge there earlier in the day.

The Ohio river at Louisville, Ky., is reported at a flood stage of 28 feet, and is expected to raise 42 feet within a few hours. The river is rising at the rate of six inches an hour.

600 to 1,000 Reported Dead. A Columbus dispatch says that between 600 and 1,000 persons have lost their lives in the flooded west side of Columbus.

According to those who have reached the stricken district the charities, big state institutions and store-rooms in the hill-top section are crowded with refugees, many of whom were rescued from the murky waters and who tell stories of indescribable horrors.

Former Mayor George S. Marshall, who was in telephone communication with Attorney Cecil Randall, his law partner, said the death toll would reach at least 1,000.

The true extent of the tragedy enacted during the sweeping away of homes nor the exact death toll will not be known for days—not until the mass of wreckage, houses and uprooted trees which are strewn over the lowlands south of the city is removed. This mass of debris is now under several feet of water, with swift currents running in many directions.

After hours of feverish anxiety, fed only by rumor, real news finally is beginning to trickle out of flood-swept Dayton and surrounding towns to the outside world.

Reports that fire is sweeping across the flooded district in the heart of the city have been confirmed. Eighteen city blocks have been burned. These are in the best residence and business districts.

Victims Cry for Bread.

The cry for help from the raging torrents of water that swept throughout Ohio, leaving in its path death and desolation, has given was to a cry for bread.

From Fremont, Tiffin, Ottawa and other stricken cities in northwestern Ohio came appeals to the Toledo Commerce club for bread and yeast.

Fremont, through Chief of Police Knapp, placed an order with local bakeries for five thousand loaves of bread. The Commerce club gave each bakery in Toledo an order for two thousand loaves of bread, making about ten thousand loaves that the Commerce club will distribute.

Toledo bakeries are rushed to the limit of their capacity, and their regular trade is being neglected to care for the needs of the northwestern Ohio flood sufferers.

The cry for gasoline is also coming in from northwestern Ohio cities. With gas plants in the various cities shut down and other fuel under water, the flood victims are suffering from the cold. The most of the gasoline will be used as fuel, although some of it will go to operate power boats that are doing noble rescue work.

Bread and Gasoline to Fremont.

A trainload of bread and gasoline was hurried to Fremont, in response to an appeal to the Commerce club. The train carried 1,500 loaves of bread and 150 gallons of gasoline.

Tiffin has also called for further assistance. Yeast is the one article emphasized in its appeal to the Commerce club, which probably means that the flood survivors will make their own bread if they can get the necessary yeast. A trainload of clothing, yeast and other supplies will be sent to Tiffin as soon as a route can be mapped out and the train made up.

A second train, carrying 38 row-boats, was dispatched to Dayton, in charge of police officers delegated by Chief Knapp to assist at Dayton.

A third train to go to the relief of Dayton is now being made up, but just what time it will get away is uncertain. Clothing, food, blankets and cash are coming in to temporary quarters of the Commerce club relief committee in the Nashy building in large amounts and Toledo is doing its share for the relief of the sufferers in splendid style.

Drinking Water Badly Needed.

One of the greatest dangers confronting practically all of the flooded cities, is the lack of drinking water. This will be particularly serious in the case of the sick and injured. Competent physicians and nurses will be on duty at Memorial hall. Arrangements will also be made with local hospitals for the care of any sick or injured flood victims brought to Toledo.

To Open New Motor Paradise.

Motorists have a great treat in store three years hence, when one of the most beautiful Alpine routes—that connecting the Lake of Geneva with the Mediterranean—will be open. The traffic thus created will, moreover, be of the greatest benefit in many of the regions traversed, the present poverty and solitude of which will be considerably relieved by the new activity introduced in their midst. Some of them are already pathetically looking forward to a golden era.—The Queen.

"CASCARETS" SURLY, STRAIGHTEN YOU OUT

No Headache, Biliousness, Upset Stomach, Lazy Liver or Constipated Bowels by Morning

Are you keeping your bowels, liver and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passage through these alimentary or drainage organs every few days with Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oil, or Purgative Wafers. Stop having a bowel wash day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, coated tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong to every household. Children just love to take them.

INDIANA DEATHS BELIEVED NOW TO TOTAL NEAR 1,000

Flood Situation Is Cleared
Somewhat by the News
From Many Towns.

PERU FACES A BIG EPIDEMIC

Disease and Hunger Confront Horror-Stricken City, Although the Flood Waters Are Receding—Rescue Party Reaches the Scene.

Indianapolis, March 28.—Under clearing skies and with conditions improving slightly in most of the flooded zones, Indianapolis is beginning to divert its energies from the fight against raging waters to preparation of its losses and protection of its homeless thousands.

Uncertainty as to the loss of life increased in almost every section, while rescue workers were wrined by occasional rays of the sun, which was seen for the first time in more than four days, and attained access to many isolated spots. It was believed the state's total dead would number 1,000. In Brookville more than fifteen bodies were recovered and some were identified; in Peru estimates on the loss of life still ranged from 50 to 500; and in West Indianapolis it was found six persons had drowned, but there remained doubt as to whether 20 or 200 had perished, all told.

Howesville Is Washed Away.
One big addition to the death list came in a report from Terre Haute that told of the wiping away of the village of Howesville, about twenty-five miles south of the town, by the rising of the Eel river. Sixteen persons were said to have been drowned and 30 others were marooned on house-tops. All wire communication with the town was cut off following the receipt of the first report.

The report of the disaster at Howesville reached Terre Haute from Linton, which sent six boats to rescue those marooned.

In Wabash 750 persons are homeless and the city is at the mercy of fire. The property loss is estimated at $200,000.

Logansport, where there has been a loss of life, has been sending Governor Ralston urgent appeals for troops. The property loss is growing hourly and the cold is causing great suffering among the survivors and threatening to cause many deaths. Culver Military academy cadets are patrolling the streets and doing what they can to aid the people of the stricken town.

4,000 Are Homeless.
Terre Haute, Ind., March 28.—Light and transportation facilities are paralyzed here, the stage of the river is at 31 feet 6 inches and business is at a standstill. The electric light plant has closed and the gas plant has ceased operations. Street cars stopped entirely at nine o'clock. Four thousand persons are homeless as a result of the flood, which is steadily spreading.

Peru Situation Improved.
South Bend, Ind., March 28.—A ray of hope has developed in the flood situation at Peru, Ind. Survivors of the stricken town sighting relief from terrible conditions in the arrival of the South Bend rescue party, headed by Lieut. Gov. William T. O'Neill. With the arrival of the volunteers the organization of rescue squads started and people are now being moved to places of safety.

It is now known that at least fifty are dead and 100 are missing. These figures are conservative and it is probable that they will greatly exceed this estimate. Of the dead 12 have been identified, as follows:

Frank E. Miller, Melvin Stessy, Thomas McCurdy, Orville Haugland, William S. Butler, Lewis Harthorn, Thomas Propeck, Elbert Hiers, Clifton Stettler, Daniel Vollmar, Fred W. Bender, Charles E. Douglas.

Horrors Beyond Description.
At no time have the newspaper correspondents in and near Peru been able to adequately describe the horrors of the situation. Following a night of awful suffering pestilence broke out among the 2,000 refugees in the courthouse square, smallpox, diphtheria, mumps, measles and scarlet fever having been reported. Because of this fact a quarantine has been established which includes Leo Freuh, a newspaper correspondent. He was given an opportunity to leave the plague-stricken district before the quarantine was formally established, but he chose to remain there as a volunteer nurse and also continue his work as a correspondent.

The longest night the thousands who were stranded here will ever have to pass through was one of terrible suffering and anguish. Worn out by the hours of suffering, seven persons gave up their battle with life in the courthouse and the number of unfortunates, who succumbed in the streets outside can only be a matter of conjecture. Three of the sufferers died in the same hour. One, a mother, who had a few minutes before given birth to a child. One other baby was born during the night, and it looks now as if the little one would survive the frightful ordeal, although its mother hovers between life and death.

Snowstorm Adds to Distress.
A blinding snowstorm, which appeared to have swept the entire northern part of the state, sent terror to the hearts of sufferers at Peru. Two thousand people in the interior of the courthouse, made ill by the filth in the building, strove for permission to get into the streets outside. Those on the single square of streets of the town which was not submerged, in their turn prayed for shelter from the blinding storm.

All through the night, from the steps of the courthouse could be heard the wails of the people in the street. And as the moans and shrieks of the sufferers floated across the muddy waters walls from those within the temporary refuge joined.

A man and woman were seen floating down the river dead, hands closely clasped. C. D. Hollowell was rescued by Charles Knight and Doctor Hoff, two Peru men, after thrilling attempts. Hollowell had sent off his wife and children in a boat in which there was no room for him. Driven from his home he finally climbed to the top of a tree on the bank of the river. Here he was seen by the two men, who rowed up the river time after time and floated down. Each time as they failed to reach him they asked how much longer he could hang on. Finally, half frozen with cold, he shouted that he could not hold but fifteen minutes. The last time the two men floated down the man fell fainting into the boat.

Refugees Leaving Town.
Refugees are leaving town as fast as they can get across the water. They will be taken north over the inter-urban.

BIG STREAMS MENACE

Floods Threaten Towns on Mississippi and Ohio.

Cities Near Mighty Rivers Awaken to Their Danger and Prepare for Freshet.

Chicago, March 28.—Rising waters threatened new flood dangers to Evansville, Ind.; Louisville, Ky.; Cairo, Ill., and a score of other towns along the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, according to reports received by the weather bureau in the federal building. During the last 24 hours the Ohio river, swollen by the turbulent waters that have been pouring in from the Wabash, Miami and Scioto rivers, passed the flood stage at a number of cities and started out to test the strength of the levees with which some of the towns have tried to protect themselves.

Warnings of approaching dangers have been going out to farmers and residents of villages along the banks of the Ohio for several days, say travelers who arrived in Chicago.

Cairo, Memphis and the lower Mississippi towns expect a big flood and are preparing for it.

At Cairo, Evansville and Louisville the Ohio river has passed the flood stage. The weather bureau received word that at Evansville the river went up 6.5 feet in the last 24 hours and is now 1.6 feet above flood stage. At Louisville the river has mounted 7.5 feet and is one foot above flood stage. It is rising at the rate of six inches an hour. At Cairo, where the river bed is able to hold more water, the rise was only two feet in 24 hours, but the water reached a mark of 45.5 feet, or 5.6 feet above the flood stage. All of these figures hold dangers for the residents of these cities.

At the same time the weather bureau learned that at St. Louis the Mississippi had reached a mark of 27.7 feet, a rise of 2.7 feet in 24 hours.

2 ALLENS ARE EXECUTED

Floyd and Claude Pay Penalty for Murder in Electric Chair.

Richmond, Va., March 28.—Floyd and Claude Allen were electrocuted in the penitentiary here today. The execution of these men is the direct outcome of a partial massacre of the Hillsville court house March 14, 1912, which was engineered by Claude Allen and several of his relatives. On that occasion five persons were killed and wounded. Those killed were Judge Thornton Massie, Commonwealth Attorney William M. Foster, Sheriff Lee F. Webb, Juror Fowler and Miss Elizabeth Ayers. The cause of the tragic assault on the officers of the law in the little mountain court house was the sentence of Floyd Allen by Judge Massie to three years' imprisonment for assaulting a deputy sheriff, who had arrested one or two of his nephews.

BIG DAMAGE IN CLEVELAND

Flood Conditions in Northern Ohio
Cause Loss of $1,000,000.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 28.—Flood conditions here, while not serious as regards loss of life, are estimated to have caused $1,000,000 property damage. The Cuyahoga river overflowed its banks, causing numerous washouts of railroad tracks. Hundreds of persons are homeless. It is feared that the big dam at Kent will go out.

Anniversary Observed.
St. Paul, Minn., March 28.—The twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the agricultural college of the University of Minnesota was celebrated here with interesting exercises, which were attended by many alumni and invited guests.

Pope Celebrates Mass.
Rome, March 28.—Pope Pius X. celebrated his first mass since his illness. Later he was visited by his brother and sister. Dr. Amiel branded as false an earlier report that his holiness had suffered a relapse.

Federals in Cananea Surrender After Half of Command Falls Before Rebel Fire.

Naco, Ariz., March 28.—After resisting valiantly the attempts of 1,000 state troops, with nearly continuous fighting for three days, the federal garrison at Cananea, commanded by Colonel Moreno, surrendered.

The federals had been fighting for thirty-six hours without food or water. More than half of the original command of 350 regulars were killed or wounded. The wounded are being taken care of by the Red Cross society.

A number of officers were killed. It is estimated that between 250 and 300 were killed.

State troops are patrolling the streets of the American mining town. Alexander McConaghey and Charles Weiss, non-combatant Americans, were wounded during the fight yesterday.

Sacking the Animals.

Spader Johnson, one of the principal clowns with the Ringling circus, was spinning yarns in the padroom and told this:

A rube visitor to the city had spent all of the morning reading circus bills and was just going to his hotel when he saw a red painted United States mail wagon going down the street. He sized it up for a circus wagon and followed it four miles to the postoffice and with wide open mouth watched the unloading of the mail.

Late in the afternoon he met another rube and remarked:

"Adner, I followed one of them circus wagons all the way downtown, an' when they unloaded they took the varmints out in sacks."—Chicago Post.

Tax on Wisdom.

Alderman James V. Mc Masters has a "David Harum" horse case to decide that will take the wisdom of a Solomon. He announced after hearing the evidence yesterday that he would need two days in order to study the merits of the case and that he would give his decision on Monday. The suit was brought by J. D. Page, a milk dealer of the north side, against the Riverside Horse and Mule Company to recover $162.50 which he paid in April 1911, for a horse bought at the company's stables. Page says the horse died shortly after from pneumonia. The company's representative explained that the horse was sold on a commission basis and that as far as he knew the animal was not sick when sold to Page.

The hearing lasted for an hour and the "horse talk" was too much for the alderman to decide the case off-hand.

What They Did to Webster.

In the course of a speech on American heroes and institutions, Chauncey Depew stated that even the greatest Americans were almost entirely unknown abroad.

While in a distinguished gathering in England, he remarked, he commented on the fact that in Washington he lived in the very house where Daniel Webster had resided for six years while serving as secretary of state and later as a member of the senate.

A member of the English nobility replied:

"Ah, indeed, most interesting! Your Webster was a most extraordinary man. In England we have nothing to compare with your Webster, who, as I learn, was your greatest statesman and orator, wrote a dictionary and was hanged for killing a client."

Our Chief Capital.

William Muldoon, the health specialist, said in a recent interview in New York: "The health of the average American is far below what it was a generation ago. The trouble is that we Americans put dollars ahead of health, ahead of life, ahead of everything."

"They say that a European, landing for the first time in New York, once asked a native: 'What is the capital of this country, sir?'"

"I forget just how much the capital is," the native replied; "but anyhow, it's all in Pierpont Morgan's hands."

Fooling the Colleges.

"Slick dog."

"How now?"

"Gave out that he had a million which wasn't working. Several colleges hastened to bestow degrees upon him."

"And then?"

"Then he built a glue factory with the money."

Dramatic Notes

OPERA HOUSE

A GREAT COURT ROOM SCENE

The great court room in that moth er-love drama "Madame X" which will appear at the Opera House on Wednesday evening, April 2nd, is one of the greatest and best ever staged.

The mysterious "Madame X" who is being tried for the murder of La-roque is defended by her own son. He knows nothing of their relationship until the finish of the act, when he learns the truth. Then follows one of the most touching scenes ever written. Miss Laura Frankfield will be seen as the mother, known only as "Madame X."

WINNING EMBROS.

Those who were unfortunate in not securing seats for last night's performance by the Winninger company met with the S. R. O. sign, the performance of "A German Gentleman" drawing the largest crowd that has been to the opera house this season.

Another clever performance, "Our Cousin Fritz," is promised for tonight and doubtless another large audience will attend.

MURAT SHOWED HIS WISDOM

Waited for Napoleon to Give Him the Hand of His Youngest Sister, Caroline.

"I wish that some of my field marshals had taken the precaution not to marry when they were only sergeants," Napoleon is supposed to have grumbled, when he saw some of the ladies at his court. Murat, the dashing leader of cavalry at Marengo, did not make the mistake of his fellows, and waited for Bonaparte to give him the hand of his youngest sister, Caroline.

"With her he reigned over the Two Sicilies as Joachim I. Wishing to stand well with the queen, the bishop of Tarento gave her a birthday present of one of Simon Vostre's "Books of Hours," printed on vellum in 1498 by Pierre Pigouchet of Paris and containing 21 fine large wood cuts. Recently this relic appeared in the library of the late Louisa Lady Ashburton at Sotheby's and realized £225 (Sabin). It may, therefore, go to America whither Murat and Caroline's

UNION STATE BANK

"THE BANK OF THE PEOPLE"

3 Per Cent. Bond Form

Coupon Certificates of Deposit

We present for your inspection herewith "something new in finance." The 3 per cent Bond Form Coupon Certificate of Deposit is the latest addition to our service.

This certificate is the direct obligation of the Union State Bank, bears two years' interest coupons, and is Payable on Demand Without Notice.

In other words, the people of Lee County can now purchase a security like a United States Government Bond, with coupons attached, bearing 3 per cent interest and payable any minute the money is desired.

Furthermore when you invest in a coupon certificate your money draws interest not from the first day of the next month, but from the day you make the deposit and the certificate is registered in your name so that no one can get your money without your consent.

This certificate is made in the form of a beautiful bond and has interest coupons attached payable every three months. All you have to do each month is to cut off a coupon and cash it at any bank or store.

Nothing could be safer or more convenient for the busy man or woman.

This is the first time that any bank in Dixon has made such an offer to the public.

The certificates come in denominations of $500 and $1,000 and will be issued for cash or in exchange for any other high grade security without loss of interest to the investor.

—THINK OF IT—

1. The bond of a State supervised bank.
2. Payable on demand.
3. Coupon form.
4. Registered in your name.
5. 3 per cent interest commencing the day you buy the Certificate.
6. Interest payable each three months.
7. $500 and $1,000 denominations.
8. Certificates payable anywhere.

Come in and see these new Certificates.

USED BABY AS SHIELD

FREEPORT MAN SUCCESSFULLY RESISTS ARRESTS AT HANDS OF FOUR OFFICERS

Holding his less than two year old babe in front of his body and foursling a revolver, Frank Rischel of Freeport, employed at the Arcade factory, last Friday night held four policemen at bay and succeeded in eluding arrest until the next morning at 10 o'clock when Chief of Police Root arrested him single-handed and with out trouble at his home on Second street, Arcade addition. The officers were Night Captain Wil-key, Patrolmen Bean, Oblander and Rinderman. About midnight Mrs.
Rischel complained to the police,
that she had been driven from her home by her husband and that he had threatened to kill her and destroy the household furnishings.

Four officers hurried to the place and when they sought admission, Rischel appeared in the front doorway and threatened to kill any officer who attempted to arrest him, but protected himself by holding his scantily attired baby in front of his body.

The child had been in bed and was taken out of doors only partially dressed by the father, who, Chief Root succeeded in arresting the man next day.

Sacking the Animals.

Spader Johnson, one of the principal clowns with the Ringling circus, was spinning yarns in the padroom and told this:

A rube visitor to the city had spent all of the morning reading circus bills and was just going to his hotel when he saw a red painted United States mail wagon going down the street. He sized it up for a circus wagon and followed it four miles to the postoffice and with wide open mouth watched the unloading of the mail.

Late in the afternoon he met another rube and remarked:

"Adner, I followed one of them circus wagons all the way downtown, an' when they unloaded they took the varmints out in sacks."—Chicago Post.

NELSON

A FEW ITEMS OF PERSONAL INTEREST FROM THAT PLACE

Nelson, Mich. 26.—The weather Easter Sunday was so inclement that Rev. Potter did not come.

Miss Grace Wheeler was the guest of Miss Velma Stitzel the latter part of the week and the latter returned home with her for an over Sunday visit.

Miss Blanche Donichy of Sterling spent Thursday with Miss Tina Ortigiesen, and Mrs. M. C. Stitzel, going to Peoria Friday morning for a visit of a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clayton and family attended the golden wedding of Mrs. Clayton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kohl at Franklin Grove last Sunday.

M. C. Stitzel entertained Joe Spoel Sunday at a duck dinner.

Mrs. H. Rubendahl is entertaining her sisters, Mrs. Chas. Trump and Miss Hazel Wendle of Polo for a few days.

Miss Tina Ortigiesen is visiting friends in Chicago.

Mrs. Emil Janssen and two daughters visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Smith, in the country.

Mrs. H. McKinstry has returned from a few days visit in Dixon and is at the home of her niece, Mrs. J. B. Stitzel.

Mrs. F. Coxwell is yet quite ill, and her mother, Mrs. Bennett of Dixon, is assisting in caring for her.

Mrs. Gus Bartholomew and two sons, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bohlen a few days.

Mrs. Bailey of Morrison spent Wednesday with Misses Noble of Peoria avenue.

Tax on Wisdom.

Alderman James V. McMasters has "David Harum" horse case to decide what will take the wisdom of a Solomon. He announced after hearing the evidence yesterday that he would need two days in order to study the merits of the case and that he would give his decision on Monday. The suit was brought by J. D. Page, a milk dealer of the north side, against the Riverside Horse and Mule Company to recover $162.50 which he paid in April, 1911, for a horse bought at the company's stables. Page says the horse died shortly after from pneumonia. The company's representative explained that the horse was sold on a commission basis and that as far as he knew the animal was not sick when sold to Page.

The hearing lasted for an hour and the "horse talk" was too much for the alderman to decide the case off-hand.

What They Did to Webster.

In the course of a speech on American heroes and institutions, Chauncey Depew stated that even the greatest Americans were almost entirely unknown abroad.

While in a distinguished gathering in England, he remarked, he commented on the fact that in Washington he lived in the very house where Daniel Webster had resided for six years while serving as secretary of state and later as a member of the senate.

A member of the English nobility replied:

"Ah, indeed, most interesting! Your Webster was a most extraordinary man. In England we have nothing to compare with your Webster, who, as I learn, was your greatest statesman and orator, wrote a dictionary and was hanged for killing a client."

Our Chief Capital.

William Muldoon, the health specialist, said in a recent interview in New York: "The health of the average American is far below what it was a generation ago. The trouble is that we Americans put dollars ahead of health, ahead of life, ahead of everything."

"They say that a European, landing for the first time in New York, once asked a native: 'What is the capital of this country, sir?'"

"I forget just how much the capital is," the native replied; "but anyhow, it's all in Pierpont Morgan's hands."

Fooling the Colleges.

"Shek dog."

"How now?"

"Gave out that he had a million which wasn't working. Several colleges hastened to bestow degrees upon him."

"And then?"

"Then he built a glue factory with the money."

Dramatic Notes

OPERA HOUSE

A GREAT COURT ROOM SCENE

The great court room in that mother-love drama "Madame X" which will appear at the Opera House on Wednesday evening, April 2nd, is one of the greatest and best ever staged.

The mysterious "Madame X" who is being tried for the murder of La-roque is defended by her own son. He knows nothing of their relationship until the finish of the act, when he learns the truth. Then follows one of the most touching scenes ever written. Miss Laura Frankfield will be seen as the mother, known only as "Madame X."

WINNING EBBROS.

Those who were unfortunate in not securing seats for last night's performance by the Winning company met with the S. R. O. sign, the performance of 'A German Gentleman' drawing the largest crowd that has been to the opera house this season.

Another clever performance, 'Our Cousin Fritz,' is promised for tonight and doubtless another large audience will attend.

MURAT SHOWED HIS WISDOM

Waited for Napoleon to Give Him the Hand of His Youngest Sister, Caroline.

"I wish that some of my field marshals had taken the precaution not to marry when they were only sergeants," Napoleon is supposed to have grumbled, when he saw some of the ladies at his court. Murat, the dashing leader of cavalry at Marengo, did not make the mistake of his fellows, and waited for Bonaparte to give him the hand of his youngest sister, Caroline.

"With her he reigned over the Two Sicilies as Joachim I. Wishing to stand well with the queen, the bishop of Tarento gave her a birthday present of one of Simon Vostre's "Books of Hours," printed on vellum in 1498 by Pierre Pigouche of Paris and containing 21 fine large wood cuts. Recently this relic appeared in the library of the late Louisa Lady Ashburton at Sotheby's and realized £225 (Sabin). It may, therefore, go to America whither Murat and Caroline's

UNION STATE BANK

"THE BANK OF THE PEOPLE"

3 Per Cent. Bond Form

Coupon Certificates of Deposit

We present for your inspection herewith "something new in finance." The 3 per cent Bond Form Coupon Certificate of Deposit is the latest addition to our service.

This certificate is the direct obligation of the Union State Bank, bears two years' interest coupons, and is Payable on Demand Without Notice.

In other words, the people of Lee County can now purchase a security like a United States Government Bond, with coupons attached, bearing 3 per cent interest and payable any minute the money is desired.

Furthermore when you invest in a coupon certificate your money draws interest not from the first day of the next month, but from the day you make the deposit and the certificate is registered in your name so that no one can get your money without your consent.

This certificate is made in the form of a beautiful bond and has interest coupons attached payable every three months. All you have to do each month is to cut off a coupon and cash it at any bank or store.

Nothing could be safer or more convenient for the busy man or woman.

This is the first time that any bank in Dixon has made such an offer to the public.

The certificates come in denominations of $500 and $1,000 and will be issued for cash or in exchange for any other high grade security without loss of interest to the investor.

—THINK OF IT—

1. The bond of a State supervised bank.
2. Payable on demand.
3. Coupon form.
4. Registered in your name.
5. 3 per cent interest commencing the day you buy the Certificate.
6. Interest payable each three months.
1. $500 and $1,000 denominations.
8. Certificates payable anywhere.

Come in and see these new Certificates.

USED BABY AS SHIELD

FREEPORT MAN SUCCESSFULLY RESISTS ARRESTS AT HANDS OF FOUR OFFICERS

Holding his less than two year old babe in front of his body and flourishing a revolver, Frank Rischel of Freeport, employed at the Arcade factory, last Friday night held four policemen at bay and succeeded in eluding arrest until the next morning at 10 o'clock when Chief of Police Root arrested him single-handed and with out trouble at his home on Second street, Arcade addition. The officers were Night Captain Wilkey, Patrolmen Bean, Oblander and Rfnderman. About midnight Mrs. Rischel complained to the police, that she had been driven from her home by her husband and that he had threatened to kill her and destroy the household furnishings.

Four officers hurried to the place and when they sought admission, Rischel appeared in the front doorway and threatened to kill any officer who attempted to arrest him, but protected himself by holding his scantily ly attired baby in front of his body. The child had been in bed and was taken out of doors only partially dressed by the father, who, Chief Root succeeded in arresting the man next day.

WEST BROOKLYN NEWS

The tenth annual Forrester Easter ball, March 31st.

Our next issue will probably give you the exact date of the high school play in the opera house.

Supervisor J. W. Banks will transact the annual business and hold the meeting in West Brooklyn election day, commencing at 2 o'clock, thereby favoring the voters of this precinct for the first time since elected a supervisor from among its numbers. This favor from Mr. Banks will give the people of West Brooklyn an opportunity to attend the business meeting and learn of the township's affairs for the past year.

C. A. Jeanblanc was here from the southeastern portion of the township Monday afternoon on business.

C. H. Oester's sale is to take place Saturday p. m., March 29th, starting at 1 o'clock sharp. Attend a good sale right in West Brooklyn.

F. H. Delhotal was here on business Tuesday.

Do not let the snow dampen your calculations regarding that Tornado Insurance policy. Call at the bank in West Brooklyn with out delay and secure important protection for your property. Another bad storm is predicted.

George Halboth was here Tuesday.

We erred in regard to the date of the box social and entertainment at the VanCampen school. The date is Friday, March 28th and not Saturday the 29th as we had it. The C. H. Oester sale is on the 29th.

Charles Barnickel was here Monday.

Something to make your heart glad follows: The women of this congregation will serve the supper in conjunction with the Forrester's Easter ball. A hearty meal is to be served, such as these ladies always serve.

Mrs. A. B. McCrea and daughter Gladys visited at the M. J. Bieschke home Monday.

Mrs. U. G. Dysart and daughter, Jennie, and Mrs. H. C. Christiance visited in Aurora last week.

Henry Glaser, east of Compton, was here Tuesday.

St. Mary's church has a new statue of St. Joseph which just arrived from Milwaukee from the firm of Diederich and Schafer. The cost was $50. Another setting of pews was also put in the church giving room for 18 seats, which were badly needed. When the fresco work is complete, the interior will certainly be very handsome and a credit to the congregation.

Impressive holy week services were held for the first time in five years by the pastor. He prepared a most beautiful repository altar especially for the last days before Easter.

Frank Hoerner was here on business Tuesday.

Miss Frances Craigmiles of Mendota was home to visit relatives over Sunday here.

Arthur Ziebarth and Arthur Varnier visited in West Brooklyn Tuesday afternoon.

You will profit by the saving by taking advantage of our clubbing offers. Through this publication you can secure the Chicago Daily Record Herald, The Chicago Tribune, The Chicago Journal at a very low rate.

I will teach any one the barber trade in a few weeks and put them to work at good wages. This is a bonafide offer. Write me, A. B. Moler, Pres. Moler System of Colleges, 738 So. Wabash Ave. Chicago.

John Haub was in town transacting business on Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver L. Ghant visited their folks in Harmon over Sunday. Returning on Monday morning they witnessed the terrible scene at Walton caused by the cyclone on Sunday night. That little cluster of homes seems to be the worst dealt with by the storm through the whole county.

Have you noticed the Easter posters telling of the dance on March 31 in the local opera house. Come.

The specimen ballot for the spring election to be held in West Brooklyn is now on exhibition and in running over its lists of candidates we notice that the name of John Halbmaier is found in the place of that of John Fassig as was first announced. We have not learned how the change came about for the substitution of one John for the other for their could hardly be any preference when it comes to size up the qualifications of both these gentlemen. Either one of them would make Brooklyn township an ideal school trustee. The balance of the ticket remains the same as was published in the last issue of the news.

A. P. Case was in town from the alley Von Wednesday afternoon and reports the water was very high. He says it is the highest he has ever seen it and this means something out of the ordinary. One person told us that when he awoke a morning or two ago he could hear the waves splash against the side of his house so we can draw on our imaginations, and sympathize with the residents of that vicinity. The dredgers are receiving a great share of blame from the residents and they say that if they altered some of their plans for this spring, all this unnecessary over flow could be averted to a certain extent. However, the dredge needs water to work and certainly has plenty these days.

Isn't this a fair dividend for any live stock owner? This applies especially to stallion and Jack owners, the rates on these animals being lowered from $100 premium on $1000 insurance, to $75 premium on $1,000 insurance, $25 saved is $25 earned and right here is a good chance to save that sum. Come in and insure. We will treat you right. You will appreciate our service when once you are acquainted with our methods. You would soon have a handsome account in the bank with just the money you save by securing your insurance of us. Above is one example. Henry F. and Oliver L. Gehant, West Brooklyn, Ill. Oh, yes, above prices mean for a live stock insurance policy which insures your animals against death from any cause. Its the same kind of a policy at a lower price that we have been selling for the last few years. Perhaps we could make you believe that the rates had not lowered and thereby get the extra profit for ourselves, but we are not going to try any such scheme. The rate is down and you are going to reap the advantage.

Miss Anna McCormick of Harmon for a visit with her parents over Sunday.

Father Krug of St. Mary's church is ill at the present writing, and under the care of Dr. E. C. White.

We are very sorry to learn of the disaster which occurred at the home of Mr. and Fred Schroeder Wednesday morning.

At 3 o'clock in the morning their big barn burned to the ground containing eleven horses and seven cattle. The cause of the fire is unknown but it is thought that some tramp was in the barn over night and set fire to the place. This is a big loss for Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder and we sympathize with them.

FUNERAL OF MRS. FENSTEMAKER HELD

TOOK PLACE AT AMBOY YESTERDAY AFTERNOON—OTHER NEWS NOTES.

Amboy, Mich. 27—The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Chas. Fenstemaker were held at the home on Main street Thursday afternoon.

Rev. H. Appelmann, pastor of the First Congregational church officiating. A large number were present to show their respect. A number attended from Walton, the former home of the departed. Mrs. Fenstemaker was a great sufferer for many months; Sunday morning she became worse, passing into a state of coma, when her death ensued. The family has the sympathy of all in their affliction, and the departed will be greatly missed among her large circle of friends, for her presence was an uplift to all, her very countenance was always radiant with good cheer and happiness, and her genial disposition endeared her to all. She was active, when her health permitted, in church and social gatherings, but she now rests from her labors and will ever be remembered among friends as a woman of noble character.

Elmer Turner was here from Shav Station today.

Joy O. Hoover returned to Princeson Wednesday.

Mrs. Albert Weise entertained a number of friends at her home Wednesday evening with a card party, and a delightful time was enjoyed. Dainty refreshments were served and the guests departed declaring Mrs. Weise a successful hostess.

Miss Ruth Keefer returned Tuesday to Champaign to resume work at the university.

No meeting of the Eastern Star chapter was held Tuesday evening, the hall being redecorated and the workmen have not as yet completed the rooms. A new kitchen has been provided which adjoins the banquet room, providing more space, which heretofore has been very limited and many times crowded, which made serving very difficult.

Chester Forsythe, who has been a guest at the P. M. James home, has returned to Eureka.

A fine time was had at the Easter hop at the opera house Wednesday evening, given by the Leake orchestra.

GRACE'S SACRIFICE

Girl Cashier Starts Misguided Office Boy on Street Called Straight.

BY FRANK FILSON.

Fifty dollars missing! Grace Boyce, cashier and secretary of the downtown office of the Allen Manufacturing company, stood staring in a dazed way into the money drawer of the high screened desk that was her post of duty.

All her pride and esteem went down in a kind of a crash at this, the first blow in her pleasant business career. Never before during her two years' service with the company had her cash been short. The mysterious thing about it was that she could not explain the circumstance.

She had tallied off her cash balance at noon the day previous. Then she had gone to the bank. She had returned and filled the pay envelopes for the factory hands. At four o'clock, as was usual, young Alden Morris, son of the president of the company, had arrived to take the pay roll to the factory in his automobile.

Grace very distinctly remembered that incident. A slight flush tinged her fair cheeks as she thought of it. Whenever the young man visited the office life seemed to brighten up. Then after the day's work Grace had placed the cash box in the safe and had gone over the books.

"I never let the handbag out of my sight from the bank to the office," she reflected. "Then I placed it for a moment on Jerry's desk while I put my wraps away. Oh, yes, I remember—the bag snapped open. But it was only a minute, and I gathered it up and took it into the cage with me."

Because of the minute she tabulated Grace mechanically walked over to the little desk that was the post of the office boy, Jerry Lang. She stood racking her brain anew, trying to figure things out. Suddenly she gave a start, leaned over, and from the tiny ink tray on the desk took up a long, thick pin.

"A bank pin!" she fluttered—"not another in the tray like it, and—oh, dear, I'm afraid I see it all!"

Grace made a spasmodic dive for a crumpled-up wad of paper lying

He Looked Wretchedly Worried.

among the litter of cards and penholders. She opened it, smoothing out the conventional bank strip used in binding packages of currency together. It had "$50" printed across it, the date of the day previous, and the initials of the bank where the company did business.

It was all plain to Grace now. She grew quite pale. Then she almost cried. Then she kept watching for the arrival of Jerry. He slouched in half an hour later. He looked wretchedly worried. Something was wrong with him—Grace saw that at a glance.

"Jerry," she called, and beckoned him past the doorway of one of the inner offices. He darted a frightened glance at her, but obeyed her call. "Sit down," she said, closing the door. "I have something to say to you."

"I can't do any errands," blurted out Jerry. "I—I'm going to leave, Miss Boyce. You see—"

"No, Jerry," interrupted Grace, "you are not going to leave until you tell me all about the fifty dollars you took out of my handbag yesterday."

Jerry tried to face his accuser defiantly. Then he broke down. He gulped, writhed and sobbed.

"I didn't take it out of your handbag," he declared. "It rolled out on the floor. Oh! I wish I was dead. I don't know what I did it for."

"What did you do with the money?" inquired Grace.

"I met some fellows. I went with them to a pool room. I lost it all, and—don't send me to jail!" he pleaded, falling to his knees. "Don't tell my mother—it will kill her! Give me a chance. I'll slave, dig, work nights to pay it back—"

"Not here, Jerry," said Grace softly, but sternly. "You cannot be trusted where there is money around. Jerry, I have thought out what I am going to do for you. I shall get you another place. I shall have to pay that fifty dollars out of my own little savings. What will you promise if I make this sacrifice for you?"

Jerry moaned and bawled. Here and there amid his incoherent sobbings a streak of the real Jerry came out, and Grace ended up the interview in a brief talk. At the end of it the contrite office boy declared she had saved him from an abyss and he would be "true blue!"

Jerry went back to his desk. Grace with a sigh drew a check against her little savings account, thought of poor Mrs. Lang, and hoped she was acting for the best. She was a little surprised when young Mr. Morris entered the office a few minutes later. They chatted for awhile. Then Grace asked him to give Jerry a place at the factory.

Two months went by. Every Saturday evening Jerry called upon Grace at her boarding house. On each occasion he had humbly offered her a dollar of his salary, which she declined to take.

"You will soon be better able to spare me something if you keep on as finely as you have started," she encouraged him.

"How do you know that I am, Miss Boyce?" he asked.

"Mr. Morris tells me about you whenever he comes to the office," explained Grace.

"He's good as gold, he is," stated Jerry enthusiastically. "He seems just glad to advise me and show me how to do things. He advanced me last week. And he always speaks of you, Miss Boyce, as gentle like and interested," and Grace had to turn away her head to hide the hot, quick blushes that came to her face.

The last day of the fiscal year a letter was handed to Grace by the office manager. It was from the president of the company, and it inclosed a check for two hundred dollars—"for faithful services," the letter read, "the amount to be duplicated as an advance in salary for the coming year."

Grace was regarding it, dreaming over what the unexpected windfall would mean to her, when a smiling face pressed close to the netted wire.

"I heard about that," spoke Alden Morris. "You deserve it, Miss Boyce."

"What will I ever do with so much money?" inquired Grace in pretty, affected dismay.

"Will you let me advise you?" asked young Morris, quite earnestly, and stepping into the cage.

"I—I should be glad—why, yes," stammered Grace, something in the impressive manner of the speaker setting her heart in a strange flutter.

"Then," said Alden, lowering his voice to a tender whisper, "buy yourself a wedding outfit!"

"A wedding outfit!" repeated Grace in a gasp.

"That is," smiled Alden, "if you will have me for a husband. Listen, Miss Boyce—Grace. You and I have been sharing some work together. I mean Jerry, you know. I was in the inner office the day you so nobly sacrificed your little earnings to save the boy. I have been co-operating with you ever since. He is going to be a credit to both of us. Won't you continue the delightful partnership, dear?"

Grace could not say him nay, and the guest at the wedding who congratulated them with honest tears in his eyes, was the misguided boy they had started on the street called Straight.

THOUGHT HIS TIME HAD COME

Visitor Could Scarcely Be Blamed for Hastening From a Treat Like That.

Clayton B. Templer, one of the oldest members of the Delaware County Bar association, had the scare of his life recently. Mr. Templer owns a number of tenant houses in Muncie. He was seeking John Proctor, stage carpenter for a local theater, to hire him to do some repair work on one of the houses.

"Just go to the stage door in the alley, pull it back and go inside. He is in there," Templer was told when he inquired at the theater for Proctor.

Templer, following instructions, opened the stage door to enter. A black mustachian man, swarthy of feature and glistening of teeth, met him, shouting: "Villain, you shall pay dearly for this! Die the death of a dog, you bound!"

"Not me!" Templer exclaimed, as he ran at jack rabbit speed down the alley to the nearest policeman.

The policeman investigated and found that just as Templer entered the stage door a "ten-twenty-third" melodrama was being rehearsed for that evening's performance and that the lawyer "budded in" on the performance just as the villain was in the act of strangling the hero to death.—Indianapolis News.

Could Read Faces.

"Yes, sir," went on Professor X—to a gentleman to whom he had recently been introduced, "I have given some attention to the study of human nature, and I rarely fail to read a face correctly. Now, there is a lady," he continued, pointing across the room, "the lines of whose countenance are as clear to me as type. The chin shows firmness of disposition amounting to obstinacy, the sharp pointed nose a vicious temperament; the large mouth, volubility; the eyes, a dryness of soul; the—"

Wonderful, professor—wonderful!" "You know something of the lady, then?" said the professor, complacently.

"Yes, a little. She's my wife."—Tit-Bits.

Hard Knock.

"I'm afraid Tewksley doesn't think very highly of you, Parnson."

"What has he been saying about me now?"

"When I told him you had political aspirations he laughed and said you couldn't qualify as a delegate to a hobo convention."

WILSON IS READY TO LEAD RELIEF IN FLOOD ZONE

President Will Visit Ohio and Indiana if Presence Will Aid Victims.

SECRETARY GARRISON ON WAY

Surgeon General Blue of Public Health Service is en Route for Buckeye
State—Boats on Way to Flooded District.

Washington, March 28.—President
Wilson has determined to go to the Ohio flood district if his presence there can do any good. The president will await word from Secretary of War Garrison and decide then if he will join the aid party.

Secretary Garrison has left Washington for the flood district to take personal charge of relief measures.
Surgeon General Blue of the public health service has started for Ohio to take personal charge of the federal aid medical officers rendering assistance to the distressed people in the flood district.

Cox Appeals for Aid.
Columbus, Ohio, March 28.—That money by telegraph is the urgent need of Ohio's flood-swept districts is the substance of a proclamation issued by Governor Cox here. He said that it is impossible to get supplies to the stricken districts because railroad trains are unable to operate, and that supplies can best be procured at the nearest points to the cities and towns affected.

"The situation is critical and the need is urgent," said the proclamation.

Boats on Way to Flooded District.
Chicago, March 28.—A special train carrying six yawls and the necessary sailors to man them, from the great lakes naval station, arrived in Chicago via the Northwestern railway, and was delivered to the Pennsylvania line, destined to the flooded district at Logansport. The Northwestern railway officials have instructed all agents that shipments of supplies and donations, when consigned to municipal authorities or organized relief committees, will be transported free of freight charges.

Lifboats from the lake steamers
Theodore Roosevelt and United States and the life-saving crew from Michigan City, Ind., have been sent on a special train to Dayton by the Indiana Transportation company to be used in the rescue work. W. K. Greenbaum, general manager of the company, has taken charge of the work and left Chicago at noon. He directed the loading of the boats, twenty-two in number, on a special train.

540 COFFINS TO DAYTON

Special Train From Cincinnati Is on a Growsome Errand.

Cincinnati, March 28.—The Cincinnati, Lebanon & Northern Railway company has just announced that it is making up a special train to leave for Dayton with 540 coffins. The order came from Dayton officials to a local company and was rushed through.

Train From Omaha Wrecked.
St. Louis, Mo., March 28.—Wabash passenger train No. 1, carrying Omaha and Kansas City sleepers, was wrecked near Normandy, a few miles out of St. Louis. The fireman was killed and it is reported the engineer was fatally hurt, and that several coaches were overturned into a ditch.

Austrian Prince Is a Suicide.
Rome, Italy, March 28.—Hereditary Prince Vinzenz von Windisch-Graetz attache of the Austrian embassy here, has committed suicide.

LAMSON BROS.

120 E. First St. E. T. Northam, Mgr.
Dixon, Mch. 28, 1913.

Wheat: Locals who sold wheat yesterday were more inclined to cover today when the foreign markets showed no tendency to follow our decline.
In consequence there was an advance of from 3-8 to 5-8 net altho highest prices were from 1-4 to 1-2 better than final figures. A fairly early opening of navigation is expected on the lower lakes, but shifts from the head of the lakes will probably be delayed for some time. A return of better weather conditions is partially offset by anticipation of damage reports from the flooded sections as soon as wire communication can be established.

Corn: With corn receipts beginning to run below oats and very little grain in transit from the country, industrial eastern demand is restricted by lack of communication, but a mail and wire inquiry of a somewhat general character lead to the belief in a more general demand as soon as conditions are more nearly normal. In the meantime, transit grain is being cleaned up by western jobbers in anticipation of spring weather. There is little fresh export business doing, but there is a fair inquiry for deferred ship corn for export due, no doubt, to the fact that now generally recognized Argentine will have less than half as much corn to export from her new crop as she exported from her old, which now totals something over 210,000,000. A little corn, held by pit traders, was on sale at the close, so weakening prices that the close was steady to a shade lower in spite of wheat advance. Warehouse interests are beginning to place in store No. 2 mixed corn largely, no doubt, for delivery on recent sales of March corn. While we anticipate a continuance of narrow markets, we do not believe that with the advent of spring like conditions will materially affect values.

Oats: This market showed better strength than corn, but the advance was not material. At the table the offerings brought prices 1-4 lower than yesterday with rather poor demand.
Provisions: With steadiness in ribs and lard, pork was stronger during the early part of the session, but lost its advantage toward the last because of realizing sales whenever the market showed good strength.
Delayed shipments of hogs made the total well in excess of last year and almost equal to figures of two years ago. Only moderate fluctuations in prices of provisions may be anticipated in the near future.

Dixon, Mch. 28, 1913.
Cash grain prices were unchanged.

Good Ash Sifters

Here is an Ash Sifter that does the work thoroughly, easily, quickly and doesn't throw out any dust.

FROM NOW ON as long as you run your fire you will need a sifter more than in any colder weather, for everyone knows it is harder to burn coal thoroughly in mild weather than in cold, and the waste during the former is often very great. You can save all that waste with this Sifter.

Sanitary Crackers

Buy crackers that are shipped in tin cans, oyster crackers, soda crackers, butter crackers and all other kinds. They hold their freshness, crispness and flavor better than when packed in wood boxes. You will find less broken crackers in buying canned shipped crackers as they are shipped in large trunks holding 60 cans and are not thrown around as boxes of crackers may be thrown in handling freight. You may also buy them in the original can, holding about 7 or 8 pounds, paying for the can and returnable at the same price. We receive all crackers and cakes in cans or sealed in air tight packages.
